

RANDOLPH-MACON COLLEGE OPENS

An Interesting Address Delivered by Rev. Dr. W. J. Young, of Richmond.

TRIBUTE PAID JOHN P. BRANCH

His Gift to the College Exceedingly Valuable—A Reception Monday.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ASHLAND, VA., September 14.—The exercises in connection with the opening of Randolph-Macon College to-day were especially interesting on account of the large number of students present on the opening day. Dr. W. J. Young who was at one time a member of the faculty, addressed the young men directly in a studious strain.

President Blackwell made quite an interesting talk on the work of the college and the extension of the system. Announcements were made in connection with the literary and athletic programme for the year. Particular tribute was paid to the gift of Mr. John P. Branch as the most substantial and acceptable assistance the college has received. The plans for the Branch Memorial Dormitory have been finally accepted and provided for the accommodation of one hundred or more students with individual rooms.

REMOVING COTTAGES.
The work of removing the present frame cottages from the campus is in progress. As soon as this is completed the new building will be started. A number of the old students find it a difficult matter to locate their former lodging places, and many amusing incidents occur on account of name. Although the prospect for making the students more comfortable in the new building is felt, there is a very noticeable fondness for the old cottages which bear the marks of vandalism and callithumping. The pretty campus is particularly attractive now, and is very given for this time of the year. With the addition of Professor Easter, the newly elected teacher of modern languages, the faculty is complete.

Monday night September 12th, a reception will be given in the college chapel to the townspeople and friends of the college. A musical and literary programme will be furnished and refreshments served by the young ladies of Ashland.

Bishop John C. Granberry will deliver the opening sermon in the Duncan Memorial Chapel Sunday morning, September 17th.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Margaret Wightman, daughter of Mr. Pinckney C. Wightman, left here to-day for the Woman's College, at Lynchburg.

The prospect of the early advent of the new electric railway to Ashland gives quite an impetus to business affairs in Ashland, and property is already in demand.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Buchanan have returned from an extended northern trip, and are stopping at the Henry Clay Inn. They will spend part of the coming winter in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lindsay Patton are visiting relatives in Richmond. Mrs. Patton expects to spend the winter in Colorado.

Prof. Asa Crenshaw has left to resume the duties as principal of Central School, Richmond.

Mrs. Dabney Ragland with her daughter, have returned to Ashland, after spending the summer in Augusta county.

WILLIAM AND MARY.
College Opens With the Most Excellent Prospects.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILLIAMSBURG, VA., September 14.—The two hundred and twelfth session of William and Mary College opened this morning at 9 o'clock with bright prospects for a large attendance. Students are arriving on every train, and the number present to-day with that present at the opening of last session, there should be about two hundred and fifty students here this year.

Two new chairs have been established since last session, one of drawing and the manual arts, the other of biology. The new Science Hall will probably be completed by the 15th of October. The college grounds have been improved by granolithic walks and a

The Judge Says the Papers Are Treating Him Fairly.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LEESBURG, VA., September 14.—Judge L. L. Lewis, the Republican candidate for governor of Virginia, addressed a large audience of Leesburgers in Leesburg Wednesday afternoon. He was introduced by Edward Nichols, of the Leesburg bar, and Judge Lewis spoke briefly of the platform of his party, its principles, and explained that it was a party of progress and material opportunities. He took occasion to compliment the Democratic press of the State for their fairness to him, and especially thanked the Times-Dispatch for its impartial reference to him—a political enemy.

Judge Lewis then explained his statement relative to the defalcation of a clerk in the auditor's office and gave his authority. Lieutenant Governor Willard, and he reiterated the assertion that this statement had not been denied. He said that graft was the outcome of long continued power in any one party, and cited as an instance the School Register scandal as the product, he declared, of the Democrats' negligent and long control of affairs in Virginia.

Judge Lewis was followed by William E. Eggehorn, of Culpeper, Va., candidate for commissioner of agriculture, and by Wm. B. King, of the Republican State Committee.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., September 14.—Nearly three thousand pupils were enrolled at the opening of the city's public schools this morning, the actual figures being 1,327 at the white schools and 1,377 at the colored schools, showing a total increase of 184, compared with last year's opening.
An interesting feature of the High School's opening was the large majority of the girls, who outnumbered the boys by nearly a hundred per cent.

They were preceded by little Misses Georgia Royster and Evelyn Reebie, ribbon girls. She wore a beautiful traveling dress of brown silk, with hat and gloves to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair ferns, while the maid of honor was simply but prettily attired in plain white.

Rev. J. K. Faulkner, uncle of the bride, then pronounced the words that made them man and wife.

The bride and groom took the 11:30 o'clock train for Norfolk, Baltimore and Washington. The large crowd of attending relatives and friends returned to "Sandy Fork" and partook of a sumptuous wedding breakfast.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

In addition to the building, which was a brick structure, two big pickers, a duster and three thousand pounds of wool were destroyed, causing a loss of two thousand dollars, with the fire insurance. The mill forces kept the fire from the main building till the arrival of the Winchester firemen, who promptly extinguished the fire.

A large dwelling house owned and occupied by G. M. Hockman, near Slaver's Creek, was destroyed by fire which originated from a defective stove, together with most of the contents. The loss is partly covered by $10,000 insurance.

Mr. Campbell lives with his mother-in-law, Mrs. John Adams, on whose farm Dabney also resides. On several occasions recently, Dabney had shown a disposition to be very impudent, and was so much so on yesterday that young Campbell ordered him to leave the premises, whereupon Dabney remarked that he wasn't going anywhere, and that he wasn't afraid of any white man, at the same time he began to advance on Campbell with a stick in his hand.

Young Campbell reached for a shotgun nearby and hit Dabney have the contents. At this writing Dabney is in bed, receiving medical attention, though his wound is not considered necessarily fatal. Sympathy with Campbell, as a negro who has borne a bad reputation.

NORFOLK WILL HAVE NEW ROAD

A Line to Be Constructed From That City to Newbern, N. C.

FOR SCIENTIFIC TEMPERANCE

Rev. O. E. Taylor is to Fight Liquor—Father and Son Rescued.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., Sept. 14.—Announcement was made today of the purchase of the Pamlico, Oriental and Western Railroad, running from Bayboro to Newbern, N. C., by the interests in control of the Virginia and Carolina Railway, which is to run a line from Norfolk to Beaufort, N. C., through the lumber section of North Carolina. This line will be used as a branch of the main line to Newbern for additional terminals at that port.

SCIENTIFIC TEMPERANCE.

An agent is here preparing for the campaign of Rev. O. E. Taylor, of Boston, Mass., who is to conduct a scientific warfare against the intemperance. The agent says none of the old methods will be followed, but that the lectures will be for the purpose of showing the origin and the growth of the use of intoxicants, the manner in which they are compounded and adulterated, their chemical composition and the results and effects of their use on the human body. There will be none of the excitement and the agitation which often accompanies the temperance crusade, but there will be rousing meetings in the churches of several of the denominations for the purpose of assisting the lecturer. The lectures will begin Friday and continue for ten days.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.

Captain Tom Lindsay and his son were rescued while clinging to a canoe in the James River and brought here. They had been there for seven hours and were exhausted when found. The crew of the tug Fannie Gilbert, belonging to Marshall Brothers, was coming from Suffolk to Norfolk this morning, when the men were seen clinging to the capsize canoe off Nansemond river. They were taken aboard the tug, revived, dried, fed in broust to Norfolk, and landed by their dreadful experience of seven hours in the water.

Captain Lindsay and his son sailed from Norfolk yesterday afternoon and at 11 o'clock last night the wind changed and the canoe turned turtle. They clung to the bottom all night and until they were rescued at 6 o'clock this morning. It was cold, the wind was strong and the water was rough, but they held on for their lives throughout the darkness.

NO TYPHOID FEVER.

The statement from the health department to-day shows that there was but one death in Norfolk from typhoid fever of a resident in September. During August there were only two deaths among residents from typhoid and one of a non-resident at the hospital. There is less typhoid fever in Norfolk this year than I have known during the seven years that I have been in this office," said Secretary Plummer Pannill. Mr. Pannill declares also that the general health of Norfolk is better than he has ever known it. His account for this is that better sanitary conditions prevail in Norfolk than ever before in his history.

Rev. J. O. Cox, of Elon College, N. C., has been called to the pastorate of the Main Street Christian Church, Berkley, recently occupied by Rev. Herbert Scholz, resigned.

SAM JONES MAKES FRIENDS WITH THOSE OPPOSING HIM

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BRISTOL, VA., Sept. 14.—Evangelist Sam Jones lectured this afternoon and to-night, each time before an audience of more than two thousand, at the chautauqua here. The evangelist did not attack the local ministers, who had opposed his coming, but rather made friends with them, and was introduced to the afternoon audience by Dr. W. S. Neighbors, of State Street Methodist Church.

FREIGHT DEPOT AT BRISTOL BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BRISTOL, VA., Sept. 14.—A large union freight depot of the Norfolk and Western and the Southern Railway here came very near being destroyed by fire this afternoon. The fire originated among the papers in the filling room and spread rapidly through the top of the building. The loss was a case of damage to three hundred feet in length when the fire department reached it.

By a stubborn fight the blaze was soon under control. Only the top of the building was damaged, but much freight was damaged by water, so that the loss is heavy. Half a ton of dynamite was removed from the building in time to prevent an explosion.

Miss Pegram at Ford.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FORD, VA., September 14.—Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the ladies of Corinth M. E. Church, Miss Nellie Thornton Pegram, of Richmond, and an eloquentist of high order, held captive a large and appreciative audience in the entertainment hall here. Mr. J. H. Dunne, of Ford, at the few well chosen words, presented Miss Pegram, who gracefully acknowledged the introduction.

Miss Pegram's selections were both humorous and pathetic, and elicited hearty applause from her enthusiastic listeners.

The hall was handsomely decorated with flags and flowers, and presented a pleasing appearance.

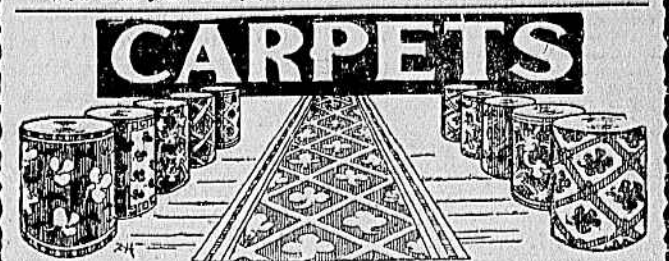

The music for the occasion was furnished by Messrs. Briggs and Fisher, of Wilson, Va., on mandolin and guitar, and several vocal quartettes were finely rendered. In which Mr. James Clark, of Ford, was leading tenor.

The proceeds were equal to the expectations of those in charge, and will be used jointly for the benefit of the Methodist Orphanage in Richmond and the Sunday school library of Corinth Church at Ford.
